Abstract

The present study deals with use of Internet by the writers of Odia literature. The study used a survey design in which a structured questionnaire was used to elicit the required data. A well-structured questionnaire was prepared and distributed to 832 writers of Odia literature out of which 823 writers responded. The analysis revealed the purpose of use, frequency of use, preferred on-line activities, preferred use of Internet tools and services, use of search engines and factors affecting use of Internet.

Keywords: Internet, writers, Odia literature.
